The information you give here will be used for selecting team members and assigning roles to them. It will be kept confidential and not shared with any third party outside Cursillo in Scotland.

As the weekend approaches, prayer requests will be circulated, in which the names of team members will be listed, together with the parishes they represent and the roles and talks assigned to them.

Notes to read before applying for Team.

When the team for a Cursillo Weekend is being formed, several factors need to be taken into consideration. The Team has to consist of both men and women – of varying ages – from different dioceses – using different styles of worship – offering different skills. Some members should have previous Team experience; others will be on Team for the First time.

It is vital for the smooth running of the Weekend that the Team members have time to get to know each other and become comfortable and supportive in their work together. The opportunity for this team building is during Team Meetings. It is for this reason that anyone selected for Team is expected to attend on the dates given on the application form. If the dates are not convenient, consider applying for a different weekend.

While the cost of the weekend is already paid for, you are encouraged to contribute and if possible, Gift Aid any donations towards future weekends. A suggestion is that this should be at least what you would have spent on normal living expenses over the 4 days. Expenses for travel can be reclaimed and forms will be sent out when you are accepted on Team.

After the closing date, the Lay Rector and Spiritual Advisors for the weekend will select the Team in consultation with the Lay Director. Those who are unsuccessful will be notified and encouraged to apply again at a later date.

Please note that to be a Gofor requires a lot of stamina and energy! Listed below are brief details of what is entailed:

Palanca – sorting and organising Palanca, delivering Palanca to rooms, organising and restocking Comfort Tables (frequent climbing of stairs).

Sacristan – preparing chapel for each service and tidying up afterwards, washing, drying and ironing linens, liaising with Spiritual Advisors.

Table Leader – instigating discussions and ensuring that all members are given the opportunity to be involved. Must be a good listener.
